Underwater World @ Stoney Cove & George Tarratt

Invites all visiting divers to enter the

“2010 Charity Treasure Hunt @ Stoney Cove”

£10,000 worth of prizes to be won!

In 1963 divers came from all over the United Kingdom to find buried treasure in the form of 100 golden guineas, today George Tarratt has donated an Omega Planet Ocean watch along with other prizes for the lucky ‘hunters’

Underwater World @ Stoney Cove and George Tarratt the Jewellers, of Market Street, Leicester have teamed up to re-produce the Treasure Hunt of 1963.

However instead of 100 Guineas an Omega Planet Ocean watch as the star prize.

In conjunction with George Tarratt, Underwater World have managed to obtain prizes from our generous suppliers within the diving industry, Suunto, Typhoon, Cressi-sub, Mares, Fourth Element, Tusa, Vandagraph and MiFlex Hoses too name a few...

Omega are proud to sponsor this opportunity to help raise valuable funds for local and nationwide charity's and to that effect both Underwater world @ Stoney Cove and George Tarratt are thrilled and excited to be involved in this massive fund raising event which will hopefully raise much needed funds for the following worthy causes...

These charities will each receive an equal ¼ share of ALL money that is raised. Every penny raised will be divided out, we also ask that the gift aid boxes are ticked so that charity's get everything they deserve.

Rules and Conditions

These are simple...

1. Divers from all over the county are invited to come and take part in the 'treasure hunt'
2. The charity 'treasure' will be in the form of a metal coin's; these will be placed in strategic places throughout the shallower water @ Stoney Cove. There will be NO metal coins placed any deeper than 22 meters intentionally.
3. When the diver finds a metal coin he or she is invited to take it to the shop and present it to the staff. With the donation of £5.00 they will be entered into the prize draw. Their details will be entered into the database.
4. Divers can enter as many times as they like, providing they produce a metal coin and donate £5.00. There will be no limit to the number of individual entries.
5. The 'treasure hunt' will be run from Saturday 17th July until 10am Monday 30th August 2010 after which no metal coins found will be eligible.
6. The prize draw will take place on Bank Holiday Monday at 4pm at Stoney Cove.
7. The winners must be available to have their photograph taken; this 'presentation' can be arranged at their convenience if they are not attending on the day; however time, as always is of the essence due to publication deadlines.
8. Prize winners will be notified by phone, please provide correct details when entering the 'treasure hunt'
9. The winner of the Omega watch will have the opportunity to dive the lake with Marcus Ash, Director of George Tarratt the Jewellers, to receive their watch and have their photograph taken for publicity. This will prove that the event took place. A ladies Omega watch to a similar value will be available should the lucky winner be a lady.
10. Unfortunately full time staff members of Stoney Cove Marine Trials LTD, employees of Omega and George Tarratt LTD or their relatives cannot enter the 'treasure hunt'.
11. Stoney Cove site rules and regulations apply. Entries will still be at normal price. £11.00 per diverlog member or £17.00 for day entries.
